A note from the Head Teacher, Mr Brown: "I am super proud of the staff and young people who attend Ormston School. This week young people started to attend full-time, they have transitioned to full time school life well. It is lovely to see relationships being built between staff and young people and I was pleasantly surprised with the school dinners. I look forward to the remainder of the term. Next on the list is to establish the student council and build stronger links with parents/carers through forums which I plan to start next half term."
